Life OF Faith

by: Cindy Wooden - Catholic News Service

“The just shall live by faith.”

- Galatians 3:11

A person's prayer is pleasing to God when it is accompanied by a life of service to the poor, Pope Francis said.

“Prayer to God and solidarity with the poor and suffering are inseparable,” he wrote in his message for the World Day of the Poor, which will be marked this November 15.

“In order to perform an act of worship acceptable to the Lord, we have to recognize that each person, even the poorest and most contemptible, is made in the image of God,” he said in the message, which was released by the Vatican this month.

For the theme of the 2020 day dedicated to making Catholics aware of the charity and solidarity demanded by faith in Jesus, Pope Francis chose a line from the Book of Sirach: “Stretch forth your hand to the poor.”

The message included a reflection on how many people stretched out a helping hand, even at the risk of their personal safety, during the coronavirus pandemic. And how the pandemic has or should have made people aware of the fragility of life, the precariousness of their jobs and connections with others and about how little their normal busyness and patterns of consumption really matter.

“A hand held out is a sign; a sign that immediately speaks of closeness, solidarity and love,” the pope wrote. During the pandemic, “when the whole world was prey to a virus that brought pain and death, despair and bewilderment, how many outstretched hands have we seen!”

Pope Francis lauded the “outstretched hands” of physicians, nurses, pharmacists, priests and of volunteers who visited with and gave food to people living on the streets. He praised workers who continued providing essential services, including the police.

“Those hands defied contagion and fear in order to offer support and consolation,” the pope said.

The Book of Sirach, he said, demonstrates that closeness to God and closeness to other human beings go hand in hand.

"Time devoted to prayer can never become an alibi for neglecting our neighbor in need," Pope Francis wrote. "In fact, the very opposite is true: The Lord's blessing descends upon us and prayer attains its goal when accompanied by service to the poor."

And, while it is true that in the Book of Matthew, Jesus says, "The poor you will always have with you," the line does not end there. The full quotation is "The poor you will always have with you; but you will not always have me."

A central focus of the World Day of the Poor, said Pope Francis, who instituted the day in 2016, is to reaffirm the "basic truth in the life of the church" that "the poor are and always will be with us to help us welcome Christ's presence into our daily lives."

The image of God present in every human being does not depend "on the color of the person's skin and certainly not on how much he has in his bank account," said Archbishop Rino Fisichella, president of the Pontifical Council for Promoting New Evangelization, which coordinates the World Day of the Poor activities.

Presenting the pope's message with an online news conference, the archbishop told reporters the pope's message "is an invitation to shake off our indifference and our frequent sense of displeasure toward the poor in order to recover the solidarity and the love that lived generously give meaning to life."

The ongoing economic impact of the pandemic and the number of jobs lost, including among tourist-reliant shops and restaurants near the Vatican, mean that more and more people are going to need help feeding their families, Archbishop Fisichella said.

"It will be our task, therefore, not to withhold from the increasingly numerous poor we encounter the daily signs (of help) that accompany our pastoral action," he said.

In his message, Pope Francis also looked at how honoring Jesus present in the poor requires not just individual acts of charity, but also conversion and a change of lifestyle.

"In order to help the poor, we ourselves need to live the experience of evangelical poverty," he said. "We cannot feel 'alright' when any member of the human family is left behind and in the shadows."

"The silent cry of so many poor men, women and children should find the people of God at the forefront, always and everywhere, in efforts to give them a voice, to protect and support them in the face of hypocrisy and so many unfulfilled promises, and to invite them to share in the life of the community," Pope Francis wrote.

The pope also mentioned in this message those who "stretch out a hand" to do harm to others and to the environment. He cited, for example, those whose "hands are outstretched to accumulate money by the sale of weapons that others" or drug dealers who reach out "to deal doses of death in dark alleys."

"We cannot be happy until these hands that sow death are transformed into instruments of justice and peace for the whole world," Pope Francis said. At the same time, the pope encouraged people to focus on the hands outstretched to help.

"Bad news fills the pages of newspapers, websites and television screens to the point that evil seems to reign supreme. But that is not the case," he said. "To be sure, malice and violence, abuse and corruption abound, but life is interwoven too with acts of respect and generosity that not only compensate for evil but inspire us to take an extra step and fill our hearts with hope."

Those who are new to our Parish this year, and those who've been coming for years without being registered, we need your help in staying organized and planning for our future needs. Having an accurate database of our parishioners will help us know where and how we need to grow. Thank you to everyone who registered with our Parish. If you have not received a welcome letter, please call the Parish Office to confirm your registration. All new parishioners, and those interested in registering in our Parish, are invited to attend The New Parishioner Orientation on a date to be determined.

This is your opportunity to become informed and active members of the parish and participate in our various ministries. Registering at St. John XXIII is a declaration of your desire to be part of a Catholic community. Please let the parish office know your email address OR you can even update it on the Parish website! www.johnxxiii.net

Frequently, those seeking to celebrate Marriage, Baptisms or serve as sponsors for Confirmation or Baptism request a letter stating that they are parishioners. To receive such a letter, one must be registered in the parish, attend Mass regularly, and be committed to stewardship of time, talent and treasure. One means of verifying participation is through the use of parish offertory envelopes. If you choose not to participate in the support of the parish or are unable to contribute at this time, please at least note your prayerful support on your envelope and place it in the weekly offertory basket.

The first year consists of regular attendance at Faith Formation classes or through a Diocesan Catholic school. (Either St. Francis Xavier or St. Andrew) The second year continues those classes, but also adds in direct Sacramental Preparation (Reconciliation and Communion) sessions. Please contact Chris at 561-7499 for more information or to begin the process. Parents who home school their children must contact the office during Year I.

CONFIRMATION PREPARATION: Celebrating the Sacrament of Confirmation is a two year process that begins at the start of 9th Grade and is celebrated in the Fall of 11th grade. (Older teens are certainly welcome!). Each year consists of Faith Formation through the parish Youth Group or a Diocesan Catholic school (Bishop Verot) as well as scheduled Confirmation classes and a retreat. Please note: Students from Bishop Verot must register and attend the preparation classes at the beginning of 9th grade. SILENCE IS NEVER THE OPTION

by: Father Angelo S. Arrando

As Roman Catholics, our rich Sacramental experiences lead us more deeply into the teachings of Jesus Christ. Likewise, the Scriptures become our road map which directs us away from any structure system which undermines the Gospel message or hinders the Holy Spirit from enlivening and transforming us into disciples of Jesus.

In the last couple of weeks, we witnessed hatred and violence in its ugliest form: racism. As Catholics, we must lay aside politics, which seem at present to be a distraction rather than an aid, and focus on people. It doesn't matter who you voted for in the last election, it does not matter if you are a democrat or republican, racism is wrong in every form and at any time.

We are reminded that every human being is created in the very image of God...not some human beings but every human being.

I end every one of my Masses with a blessing from St. Peter: "you are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation." (1 Peter 2:9)

That "chosen race" that "holy nation" is not an ethnic group or a country. It is the very Church made up in all of its diversity; our primary identity is not our nationality, our gender, our ethnic background, but Jesus, the Christ.

It is hard to believe that such blatant racism that we witness over and over could exist in 2020. But a look at the bible and of global history reminds us of the depth of human chaos and sin.

It's much easier to recognize racism in others than in ourselves. The hate-filled white supremacy rhetoric is easy to identify as evil. Harder to identify are the more subtle forms of racism that exist in ourselves. The reality is seeing such blatant forms of racism could inadvertently cause us to ignore the racism within us. We see people in the news chanting supremacy rhetoric, and we know, that compared to them, we are not racists. We feel a righteous anger over what happened to George Floyd and we think "I must be a righteous person, I really felt something." But before we pat ourselves on the back, we need to do some ruthless self-examination. Being silent in the face of racism is racism!

As people debate the proper response to George Floyd, we must condemn all forms of racism, bigotry, and discrimination. We must call it for what it is: SIN!

To our shame, Christians have been part of the problem for centuries. So, as Christians, we need to be part of the solution.

When asked which was the first of all the commandments, We readily word Jesus' words "You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, with all your mind, and with all your strength." And the second is this: You shall love your neighbor as yourself" (Mk12:28-31).

Loving our God obligates us to love our neighbors as well. You Cannot Love God and Hate Your Neighbor Scripture clearly and boldly states: "If anyone says, 'I love God,' and hates his brother, he is a liar; whoever does not love a brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen"(1 Jn 4:20). This simple, straightforward teaching constitutes the heart of Christian ethics.

Racism has continued to be a way of life all too often. When a way of life becomes so hurting to others then religious people can no longer be silent; we are called to stand up and be counted as witnesses to an alternative lifestyle more faithful to the human race and to the God Who created us in God's image.

Parish NURSING MINISTRY SUMMER TIPS

Stay cool this summer and prevent heat-related illnesses when participating in outdoor activities with these tips:

Hydrate Properly Throughout the Day:

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention recommend that individuals who weigh less than 90 pounds need five ounces of water - that's 10 big gulps every 20 minutes.

Plan Ahead:

Wear protective clothing/sunscreen and avoid the heat during the hottest part of the day, around mid-day. Let someone know where and when you are going outdoors. Bring a phone for communication emergencies.

Take Frequent Breaks:

Move to shaded or breezy areas and wear clothing to allow for increased evaporative cooling.

PREVENTING HEAT STROKE:

Heat stroke is a very serious and potentially dangerous heat injury that requires medical attention immediately. This is the most severe form of heat-related condition that stems from milder illnesses such as heat cramps and heat exhaustion. The medical definition of heat stroke is a core body temperature of 105 degrees Fahrenheit or higher combined with central nervous system complications resulting from overexposure to high temperatures.

If you've spent a lot of time in the sun and you're experiencing any of the symptoms below, it's important to seek medical attention immediately.

CALL 911 if you or others develop symptoms of heat stroke that are unable to be adequately treated.

- Incredibly Hot Skin
- Dizziness and Fainting
- Extreme Fatigue
- Nausea
- Vomiting
- Rapid Heartbeat
- Mental Confusion
- Seizures
- Lack of Sweating
- Severe Headache

Did You Know?

Many of us who grew up in the northern states survived the warm summer months with just a floor or window fan. After sunset we would place the fan in a window to exhaust the warm air out of the house.

Fans are designed to cool the person or people in a room by a direct flow of air. They really do not "cool down" the room temperature. Thus, if you are using a fan to enhance your comfort on hot days, you should turn off the fan if you leave the room for a length of time. A small energy savings, but shapes our conscience of energy consumption.

- Excessive sadness or moodiness: Long-lasting sadness, mood swings, and unexpected rage.
- Hopelessness: Feeling a deep sense of hopelessness about the future, with little expectation that circumstances can improve.
- Sleep problems.
- Sudden calmness: Suddenly becoming calm after a period of depression or moodiness can be a sign that the person has made a decision to end his or her life.
- Withdrawal: Choosing to be alone and avoiding friends or social activities also are possible symptoms of depression, a leading cause of suicide. This includes the loss of interest or pleasure in activities the person previously enjoyed.
- Changes in personality and/or appearance: A person who is considering suicide might exhibit a change in attitude or behavior, such as speaking or moving with unusual speed or slowness. In addition, the person might suddenly become less concerned about his or her personal appearance.
- Dangerous or self-harmful behavior: Potentially dangerous behavior, such as reckless driving, engaging in unsafe sex, and increased use of drugs and/or alcohol might indicate that the person no longer values his or her life.
- Recent trauma or life crisis: A major life crisis might trigger a suicide attempt. Crises include the death of a loved one or pet, divorce or break-up of a relationship, diagnosis of a major illness, loss of a job, or serious financial problems.
- Making preparations: Often, a person considering suicide will begin to put his or her personal business in order. This might include visiting friends and family members, giving away personal possessions, making a will, and cleaning up his or her room or home. Some people will write a note before committing suicide. Some will buy a firearm or other means like poison.
- Threatening suicide: From 50% to 75% of those considering suicide will give someone – a friend or relative – a warning sign. However, not everyone who is considering suicide will say so, and not everyone who threatens suicide will follow through with it. Every threat of suicide should be taken seriously.
